OPERATORS AGREE TO COAL PRICE PLAN

Accept Hoover's Plan To Help During Emergency While Some Fields Open Soon

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, July 24—Operators from the producing districts of six states in conference today with Secretary Hoover, agreed in principle with the administration's plan for maintenance of prices and insuring distribution of fuel during the strike emergency.

The operators' agreement is subject, however, to approval of their respective districts. Immediately upon adjournment of the first meeting, the chairman of committees representing the operators of the various districts went into session with Hoover to draft details of the coal control plan which will be submitted to the full conference probably late today.

The administration's plan for preventing coal profiteering and insuring fuel distribution during the strike emergency was presented today at a conference of nearly 100 non-union operators and government officials with Secretary Hoover. The meeting in an executive session conference, considered two proposals by Hoover. One provided for tightening the existing voluntary agreements to maintain fair prices and the other for establishment of coal pools in the producing districts for redistribution under authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Attorney General Daugherty submitted to the conference an opinion "sustaining every phase" of the Hoover coal control program.

Coal $18 in Chicago

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, July 24—The price of coal in small quantities since the miners went on strike has jumped from $6 to $18 a ton.

Coal on Barges

(By Associated Press.)
Louisville, Ky., July 24—The steamboat, Reliance, with twelve barges is on its way today Kentucky river mining points loaded with coal for local consumption. It is estimated to be bringing 7,000 tons of coal monthly. The first cargo is due in ten days.

Want Kentucky Miners Out

(By Associated Press.)
Harrisburg, Ill., July 24—A resolution requesting the union miners in Kentucky, Alabama and Tennessee to walk out not later than August 1st was adopted by coal miners of Saline county. The resolution further urges all Illinois miners now in these fields to return home. The suggestion was made that the union miners of Ohio, Indiana and Iowa take similar action.

Illinois Mines May Reopen

(By Associated Press.)
Springfield, Ill., July 24—Renewed activities at central Illinois coal mines where men today began to put the mines in shape for operation, together with an official call for a meeting of the Illinois mine workers' executive board at St. Louis next Wednesday, were taken as hopeful indications that the end of the Illinois coal strike may be in sight.

FAWKES' FORESIGHT BOON TO RICHMOND

Nicholasville and several other Central Kentucky towns are beginning to feel the pinch from the coal strike. Notices that the electric light plant there will be closed each midnight until 7 o'clock a. m., beginning July 27, were issued Saturday by Mayor R. M. Sparks. This is done on account of the city having only a small amount of coal and being unable to get another supply.

Luckily Manager George Fawkes, of the Kentucky Utilities Co. here, had foresight enough to lay in a plentiful supply when times were good. So Richmond is in good shape as far as coal for her lighting and power plant is concerned, due to Fawkes' good work.

Boy 12 Years Old Kills Neighbor

A peculiar killing took place at Evans, says the Harlan Enterprise. John Lee and Jack Nantz became engaged in an altercation and a 12-year-old stepson of Lee's named Pace, ran to his home, secured a shot gun and shot Nantz, killing him instantly. The boy was brought to Harlan and released under $1,000 bond.

Lewis Neale Buys Cattle

The Danville Advocate says: Lewis Neale, of Richmond, purchased yesterday 45 head of fine, 1100-pound cattle from Phelps Cobb of this county. The cattle will be driven through to Richmond, as soon as a suitable day comes.

KLAN CANDIDATES WIN IN TEXAS

Dallas, Tex., July 24—Unofficial figures, completed late last night by the Texas Election Bureau on the Democratic primary election, including 216 of the 236 counties in the state, showed Earle B. Mayfield, of Austin, conclusively leading for nomination to be United States Senator. Senator Charles A. Culbertson, of Dallas, was third in a field of six entries.

Mayfield had 93,557 votes; E. Ferguson 68,196; Culbertson 59,745; Cullton F. Thomas 51,156; Clarence Ousley 35,388 and Robert L. Henry 24,676.

Governor Pat M. Neff had 185,319 votes, followed by Fred Rogers, with 110,907; Warner 32,497 and King 95,516.

Candidates supported by the Ku Klux Klan appeared to be winning all along the lines. Mayfield had the undivided support of the Klan and Governor Neff never opposed it.

Mrs. Edith C. Williams, running on the Klan ticket, the only woman candidate for a seat in the state legislature, is leading her opponent by a large majority. Her opponent is a veteran legislator and one of the pioneer woman suffrage advocates of the state.

MRS. FRANKLIN MILLION IS CALLED HOME

Mrs. Bettie Hockaday Million, 77 years of age, passed away at her home near Hockaday last Thursday afternoon, July 20. She was the widow of the late Franklin Million. She had been sick for more than a year and gradually grew weaker until the end came. She is survived by two sons, S. S. and J. H. Milillo, one step daughter, Mrs. Wm. Haden, several grand children and one sister, Mrs. James Adams. Mrs. Million was a kind, cheerful christian woman and loved by all who knew her. Funeral services were held at the residence Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Stocker. The burial took place in the family grave yard.

THREE ARRESTS MADE HERE BY OFFICERS

Prohibition Officer Lucian Burnam with Sheriff Elmer Deatherage, deputy sheriffs and police made several raids Saturday night and were able to make two arrests. They arrested Tony Warford and Callie Biggerstaff, both colored, with liquor in their possession. Both live on Hill street. They are out under $500 bond each and their trials will be held Tuesday before Judge Goodloe.

Sam Pinkston, colored, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Prohibition Officer Burnam and others. He was found to have liquor in his possession. He lives on Big Hill avenue. His trial will be Tuesday before Judge Goodloe.

NEW BRIDGE TO BE BUILT OVER RIVER

State Engineer Boggs Plans To Build One By State and Counties at Clay's Ferry

A new bridge over the Kentucky river at Clay's Ferry, to be jointly owned by Madison and Fayette counties and the state, is to be built at an early date, according to State Highway Engineer Joe S. Boggs. Such an improvement will cut out the old toll bridge which is privately owned—principally by Madison county people—and has been operated for many years. The Lexington Leader had the first intimation of the new bridge plans in its Sunday paper. It said:

The historical old wooden toll bridge on the Lexington and Richmond pike which crosses the Kentucky river at Clay's Ferry, which has been standing since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary, and which was a strategic point during the civil war because it was used extensively for the passage of troops and supplies for the army across the river, is to be replaced by a modern structure next year, if plans of the State Highway Commission materialize, as announced by Chairman Joe S. Boggs.

This information was brought here from Frankfort by County Engineer W. H. Edwards, who was at the capital the past week attending a meeting of the commission, at which the project was discussed.

Chairman Boggs and members of the State Highway Commission have been invited to spend the day in Lexington on August 15 as the guest of Engineer Edwards and it is expected that the party will make a trip to Clay's Ferry to note the progress of the reconstruction of the Richmond road to that point and also to view the proposed site for the new bridge, which, it is understood, will be about a half mile up the river from the old wooden bridge if tentative plans for the project are approved.

The Lexington and Richmond pike will be part of the famous Dixie Highway thru central Kentucky and construction of this road is now under way on both the Fayette and Madison side of the Kentucky river. P. J. Gormley has the contract for the new work on the Fayette side, while the Carey-Reed Company, of this city, was awarded the contract on the Madison county side by a splendid stretch of concrete road extending from the top of the incline at the river to the city limits of Richmond. A large force of men is now at work on both sections of the road and excellent progress is being made.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

Mrs. T. T. Covington, the Daily Register's very efficient and popular society editor, is spending her vacation at Estill Springs this week.

Dr. T. N. Willis, of Louisville, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Sam DeJarnette.

Mrs. D. M. Bright, who is quite ill at her home on Lancaster avenue, is reported as somewhat better Monday afternoon.

An audit of the books of ex-Sheriff Emmett Griffey, of Anderson county, is said by the Lawrenceburg News to show that he owes that county the sum of $12,431.

J. Hale Dean is back from the big tractor show at Cincinnati. Bob Covington, now a popular "Knight of the Grip," spent the week end at home.

Eddie Roush has signed up to play with Cincinnati the remainder of the season after a long hold-out. He wanted $18,000 a year and it's a safe bet the Reds didn't give it to him.

G. J. Jarvis, formerly under Auditor Craig, at Frankfort, has been appointed local editor of the Harlan Enterprise, by Owner J. M. Alverson. From the prosperous looks of its advertising columns, Harlan is just about ready for a live little daily.

The Railroad Strike

(By Associated Press)

With government agencies outwardly inactive as far as the rail strike is concerned, there is little change in the situation today and hopes for any move leading to peace centered in the meeting at Baltimore tomorrow when the Baltimore & Ohio will seek separate agreements with its men.

B. M. Jewell, head of the shopcrafts, had no comment to make on the situation, while Ben Hooper, chairman of the Labor Board, still declined to discuss his recent conference with President Harding.

Railroad heads reiterated that separate peace agreements could be made by the roads but there is no indication on the part of employees to accept anything but a national settlement.

LAST SERVICE HELD IN BAPTIST CHURCH

The last services to be held in the First Baptist church were conducted Sunday with the Rev. T. P. Dudley, former Richmond man, delivering the sermon. The membership of this church has so grown within the last few years that another structure was necessary. Future Sunday school and church services will be held in the court house until the new building is completed. Workmen will begin immediately to tear down the old church. The pews have been sold and will be moved out at once. This congregation will soon have a magnificent structure in which to worship.

ROCKCASTLE WOMAN ON HUNGER STRIKE

Mt. Vernon, Ky., July 24—Voluntary starvation is becoming popular with mountain residents of Kentucky.

Word came today from Humble, a village in the hills of Rockcastle county, that Mrs. Betty Coffey, 87 years old, is undergoing a voluntary fast, this being the forty-fifth day she has declined to partake of food. Her only sustenance during that period has been occasional sips of buttermilk and she has drunk water in unusual quantities.

Mrs. Coffey lives with her son, Charles. Despite her great age and long fast, she is apparently in usual good health. It is understood that the fast started when she learned of the hunger strike conducted by the Rev. William Rice in the Powell county mountains, who starved himself 69 days and died last week.

Rice's expressed belief was that he might convert his neighbors to christianity by his sacrifice. Mrs. Coffey, however, has not given any definite reason for her refusal to eat.

Evangelist J. W. Beagle At Maple Grove Church

Rev. J. W. Beagle, state evangelist, will be at the Maple Grove Baptist church next Thursday for services. All members of the church are earnestly requested to be present at this time.

Estill Springs Doing Fine Business

Estill Springs is creating a sensation and folks are learning where to go for a good time and also to recuperate and rest. Among the guests last week were Mrs. Poyntz and Miss Kathleen of Richmond, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Wells, from Louisville, Mrs. Chas. Wagers and two sons from Kirksville; Madam Scovill and sons, of California, and for the week end and Sunday dinner quite a number came in. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Werner from Winchester; Mr. Chas. Wagers and daughter, Louise, and Miss Elizabeth Curtis, from Kirksville; Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Moberly and Misses Lula and Mayme Campbell, of Richmond; Rev. J. N. Culton, of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Rice and Mr. Tom D. Fisher, of Nicholasville. All report things in fine condition.

MODIFICATION OF VOLSTEAD LAW

Is Favored By Majority of Those Who Have Voted In Nation. Wide Straw Vote

Much interest is being aroused over the country in the nationwide poll being taken by the Literary Digest on the prohibition law enforcement question and the soldiers' bonus. The second week's tabulation of votes has just been made. With more than 200,000 votes received, the Literary Digest, in its current issue, makes public the following results:

Those in favor of strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act—76,597.

Those in favor of the modification of the Volstead law to permit light wines and beer—85,152.

Those in favor of repealing the present prohibition amendment—45,646.

Those in favor of a Federal bonus for all soldiers and sailors who wore the uniform during the World War—102,978.

Those opposed to such a Federal bonus—102,370.

The returns in the second week of the poll more than doubled those of the first week and apparently showed a slight decrease in the wet sentiment.

The decrease in the strength of the outright wets is slight, as the figures show, and it is still obvious that the voters are registering themselves emphatically and in major numbers against continuance of the present method of dry law enforcement, particularly the Volstead act.

It also would appear that the voters are opposed in the main to the return of the "wide open" days before the passage of any prohibition amendment.

In the letters received by the Literary Digest there appears common protest to the saloon and all that it stood for. Certain writers suggest laws such as are in force in Quebec and British Columbia, where in the absence of saloons, citizens may buy what they wish from Government stores. To such proposals the bone-dry faction replies by terming their attacks on the 18th amendment.

MASON & HANGER CO. WIN BIG CONTRACT

A host of friends here were glad to read this in the Lexington papers:

The firm of Mason & Hanger Company, builders of Camp Zachary Taylor, and one of the largest contracting firms of Kentucky, has just been awarded the contract for a $2,000,000 project by the New England Power Company. Announcement was made by Silas B. Mason, president.

The work involves principally the construction of a two-mile tunnel. Construction work will extend over a period of 18 months to two years. The work will center around Whittington, Vt.

Mason & Hanger Company maintains offices in Lexington and Richmond. Many superintendents and foremen of the company reside in Kentucky and will be taken to New England on the project.

Hazard Operators Worried

Lexington, Ky., July 24—Following a meeting of coal operators in that section of Eastern Kentucky known as the Hazard field, it was stated today that these operators view with alarm the proposal that there be formed a government commission for regulation of the coal industry, or, as they put it, "the injection of government into the coal business." The Hazard operators insist that "there was no shortage of coal until there became a shortage of transportation." This they supplement with the declaration "give us railway cars and we will supply coal and none of it above the Hoover price."

"Can the flapper make her way asks a professor. She doesn't have to make her way. She has mending workers take power into their own hands."

RICHMOND BOYS GO WELL ON BIG TEAMS

His friends at home here were much pleased with the showing that Sam Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. June Reid, of this city, made in his first full game pitched for Madisonville in the Kitty League late last week. Sam held the Mayfield nine to five hits and his team won the game 1 to 0. Reid belongs to Louisville, but is being loaned to the Madisonville team, of which Deighan, a former Louisville catcher, is manager.

Earl Combs continues to star at the bat for Louisville. He got two hits out of four times on Sunday and had four put-outs without an error. He appears to be a fixture in left field for the Colonels and as he was hitting .360 before Sunday's game, there's a reason.

BROADDUS HANDLES MATERIAL PROMPTLY

Few people in this county realize the tremendous amount of material which is being used in the construction of the Lexington pike. In an interview with W. W. Broadbuss last week, the Daily Register was given some idea as to the amount of material that has been handled through this firm for this big work.

Something like 25 cars of cement, 175 cars of gravel, 125 cars of sand and 25 cars of rock have been delivered by this firm. At times there have been as high as 15 carloads of material on the tracks at one time, waiting to be unloaded.

Unloading was made possible through a large conveyor owned by the Broadbuss company. It is possible to unload six tons of gravel into one of the big trucks which are being used to carry the material to the Lexington pike in exactly one minute. The workmen at no time during their contract have been delayed for lack of materials.

Of the 360 car loads of material received here, every car has been inspected by Mr. McCormack and not one car has been rejected. This is a remarkable record.

Mr. Broadbuss stated that on last Friday they unloaded twelve carloads of material and that several of the truck drivers made a record of hauling 30 deliveries during the day. Besides this great amount of material for the Lexington road, they unloaded one car of sand and another of brick for the Madison High School building.

The work is progressing nicely and with pretty weather it is believed that the job can be completed this week. It is going to be a great benefit to travelers along this route, and will be the means of bringing a greater number of people to Richmond. It

RUSSIAN REDS TRY TO START SOMETHING

(By Associated Press)

Moscow, July 24—The executive committee of the Third International has sent an appeal to the proletariat of the world recommending the proletariat take offensive in view of the "white terror," and attacks on workmen abroad. The appeal says it is time defensive tactics ceased. A special appeal is sent to Germans, declaring their national leaders have betrayed them and recommending workers take power into their own hands.

PAINT LICK WINS ANOTHER GAME

Takes Blue Lick Hustlers Into Camp Saturday By Close Score of 7 to 5

In a hard fought baseball game at Paint Lick Saturday afternoon Blue Lick was defeated by a score of 7 to 5 by Paint Lick's crack nine. The game caused unusual interest as the two teams are well matched and are the two leading teams in the section. Previous to this game the two teams had met 5 times three of which were Paint Lick victories. Blue Lick has a record of 21 games won and 6 lost for the season, while Paint Lick has captured 7 out of 12. Paint Lick has been playing fine ball of late and will furnish tough opposition for most any team in this part of the state.

The game Saturday was slow but hotly contested. Paint Lick's star twirler, "Red" Beasley was on the hill and showed good form at times, allowing only 7 hits. Calico, Manager Harris' selection for Blue Lick, allowed only 6 hits, but did not seem at his best.

Blue Lick could not score but once in a single inning but they did this five times. Stephenson, the first Blue Lick man to come to bat, worked Beasley for a pass, stole second, took third on an out at first and scored when "Simp" Rogers dropped the ball after Stephenson had been caught between third and home. Calico placed a jinx on himself by fanning the first Paint Lick man up. This proved to be disastrous when the final count was taken. Blue Lick's run in the second was due to B. Harrison's triple and Calico's single. They scored in the fourth on errors, but Clark opened the seventh with a double, took third on a wild pitch and scored on an out at first. Robinson's home run accounted for the last Blue Lick tally. He drove the ball to deep left center and should have been held to two or three bases, but Davis lost the ball in the weeds and Davis circled the bases. It was a real drive at any rate.

Paint Lick held two big scoring rounds which proved to be too much for the visitors. They scored four times in the first when Blue Lick blew sky high. A walk, Dueron's double, Roop's scratch hit, two errors and a "boner" on Calico's part accounted for the runs. In the fifth Paint Lick won the game by scoring three runs without the aid of a hit, a base on balls, two rank errors and some bad judgment by Blue Lick lost the game. The score:

WASHINGTON FARMERS SHIP IN CO-OPERATION

(By Associated Press)

Springfield, Ky., July 22—By means of co-operative shipping, Washington county farmers this season have realized an additional profit of 65 on each of three carloads of lambs that they have marketed while docking and otherwise altering the animals before marketing them resulted in profits equally as satisfactory, according to County Agent Robert M. Heath. These are part of the good results that have been obtained in a co-operative movement which the farmers carried on with the College of Agriculture extension division at Lexington in an attempt to make sheep raising a more profitable industry in Washington county, he says.

Early in the season 24 demonstrations were held by Mr. Heath and specialists from the college division to show farmers how to dock their lambs and otherwise alter them so that they would be in the best market condition when it came time to sell them. As a result of this work a total of 1,248 Washington county lambs received the recommended attention.

The next step in the movement was co-operative shipping of the animals, a total of three carloads being marketed by this means. Lambs in the first carload brought 75 cents more a hundred than other lambs on the Louisville market on the same day while those in the second and third cars brought 50 and 75 cents more respectively, Mr. Heath said.

Co-operative shipping as carried out by the farmers this year proved to have another advantage, this being a reduction in the margin necessary to take the lambs from the farm to the market. By means of co-operation, the lambs were shipped from the county to Louisville for $1.17 a hundred pounds, whereas local buyers claimed that they must have a margin of $1.75 a hundred pounds in order to realize a profit on the deal.

In the three carloads of Washington county lambs there were only three animals that were graded as seconds whereas the average single car usually contains as many as 15, Mr. Heath says.

SWIFT'S PRODUCE REVIEW

Movement of live poultry has increased and is now above normal for the time of year, indicating an extremely large amount of poultry available on the farm.

The demand for dressed poultry seems to be lighter than usual and values are working nearer to a pre-war basis. Prospects for the balance of the year are that conservative values will rule.

Extremely heavy stocks of storage eggs, as shown by the government report, with production still above normal, has had a depressing effect on the market, and values in the consuming markets are now about the lowest they have been at any time this season. Indications are that values will have to be kept on a conservative basis to move the current production and surplus storage stocks.

Production of butter for the past week has shown an increase over a few weeks ago, due to better pasturage conditions.

The export demand for the time being is filled and as a consequence, prices have worked to a lower level. Indications are that there will be a good production of butter the balance of the summer and values should be reasonable.

MOONSHINERS NOT ALWAYS GUN TOTERS

Mountaineers, Not All Trouble
Makers But Friends and Hospitable

(By Associated Press)

Catlettsburg, Ky., July 22—Typical mountain moonshiners of Kentucky are not always of the gun toting and trouble making kind it is proven to news correspondents by visits into the mountain region in this area of the state. The mountaineer type of moonshiner, however, is continually on the alert for deputy sheriffs, prohibition officers and revenue agents.

After a trip of 30 or 40 miles into the mountains the correspondent was escorted to a moonshiner's log shack, made from the rough timber of the hillside and carefully arranged on a foundation of stone.

"Bill" greeted his visitors with a keen eye, a bit of suspicion, but with a friendly note in his shout of "Welcome, stranger." Proper inquiries whether any squirrels inhabited an adjacent mountain side where a newly beaten path had been noticed brought the answer that squirrels were scarce and none were found in the woods. Further inquiries regarding the path finally forced "Bill" to admit that he visited the hillside every day but never learned if any stills were there. Within a short time, and when a friendly spirit developed (the visitors having impressed the moonshiner they could be trusted) some "mountain dew" or in the language of the cities "white mule" was produced from a small cupboard within the single room of the cabin, over which hung a religious picture and other articles of a religious nature. On the opposite side of the room over the bed of the moonshiner was a rifle of heavy calibre, an automatic pistol and a small calibre revolver. The contrast was unique.

A pot of home grown string beans cooked in mountain style in a large iron kettle hung over a fire near the hut. Fingers were used as forks for the mountaineer's luncheon and moonshine furnished the refreshment.

A small drink of the "mountain dew" by the correspondent almost brought slumberland a la Dempsey. Inquiries as to the age of the liquor brought the answer "That's today's stuff."

Hospitality of true southern quality will be found among the mountaineer residents if you are a "friend," if an enemy—beware, or as "Bill" explained it, "snakes in the mountains are killed." Bill makes his farm a payable proposition for his wife and children, who were attending church at the time of the correspondent's visit, and by occasionally cutting some timber. His interest in world affairs is not limited, and weekly trips to the nearest postoffice furnishes him with newspapers from the "outside." These are read by one member of the family, by lamp and candle light to the others, and often last throughout the week.

The moonshiner's home from the outside has an inviting appearance, but once within the home, while some inconveniences are found, the impression of cleanliness is produced. The low ceiling forces a man of ordinary height to stoop. The board floor may creak, but it is solid and high and dry. In winter cold winds are shut out by the mud plastered between the cracks of logs, and by the board and paper lining of the inner walls. Heat is furnished by an oil burner and cooking is done on a coal range. Oxen teams haul coal to the home during the fall months. A yoke of oxen pulling a load of timber along the narrow mountain road explains the manner which enable the mountaineer to obtain all the sizeable logs used in constructing his home.

Resources and resourcefulness gained only from the "close to nature" life of the mountaineers enable them to succeed where the ordinary citizen would barely get along, but the resourcefulness is coupled with the fear of the law and the belief in a hereafter.

To Make Resurvey In State For Hookworm Disease

The services of Dr. Marshall J. Thompson, of Baltimore, have been loaned by the International Health Board to the State Board of Health to co-operate in conducting a series of resurveys of counties which showed a high percentage of hookworm disease in the original survey made between 1910 and 1916. These resurveys are to be carried on during the summer and early fall. Counties to be visited include ones in eastern, south-eastern and western Kentucky. The survey of Laurel county already has been completed and a preliminary report shows that the number of cases in that county has been reduced 60 per cent below the 1914 figures.

Duties of Ship Surgeons Increased Because of Wireless-Calls for Aid

Ship Surgeon giving advice by wireless

New York. As a fore we can reach port. Please result of the perfection of wireless communication at sea the work of the ship surgeons has been greatly enhanced. There was a time, not so long ago, when the duties of the surgeon were confined to the care of the passengers and crew on the vessel of which he was physician. Nowadays, however, the surgeon's work has been almost doubled by the calls for aid from passing ships. Recently a survey of the medical situation in the vessels of its fleet was made by the United States Lines and many interesting stories were brought to light.

Within the last few months, investigation shows, the surgeons of the United States Lines vessels have been called upon to prescribe for a score or more cases which were brought to them through the medium of wireless. Now that the wireless telephone has passed the experimental stage, demonstrations having been successfully carried on for a number of weeks aboard the Steamship America, it is expected that the ship surgeons will be called upon more extensively than heretofore.

It is nothing uncommon for the ship surgeon to be aroused in the middle of the night to prescribe for a sick sailor aboard a vessel several hundred miles distant. The radio calls for assistance usually come from freight ships, which do not carry surgeons and on which the captain with the aid of a limited medicine chest acts as physician to his crew.

On his recent arrival in New York Dr. R. H. Bolling, surgeon on the steamship President Roosevelt, reported having treated twelve members of a freighter's crew by wireless. The ship surgeon was aroused in the middle of the night by a radio requesting aid for twelve sailors who were in great agony. Dr. Bolling called for detailed histories of the cases and after a thorough analysis of the information sent him determined that the luckless twelve were victims of ptomaine poisoning. The surgeon prescribed heroic treatment for the twelve and a day later received a message of thanks from the freighter's captain informing him that the ptomaine sufferers were recovering.

Dr. W. S. Ford of the steamship President Garfield has the distinction of being the first surgeon on record to have aided and abetted the stork by wireless. On a trip from Europe Dr. Ford received a message from the captain of a freighter reading: "Have wife on board. Expect arrival of stork before."

Inasmuch as it was impossible for the steamship to reach the island in time for the doctor to operate—800 miles separated patient and surgeon—Dr. Irwin inquired whether the others would attempt the amputation if he provided full directions. Word came back in the affirmative.

Then, through the ether went the necessary instructions and the operation was performed. The cook for the little colony, acting as surgeon, used a kitchen saw and butcher knife as his instruments. The severed arteries and veins were tied with silk thread. During the next day or two Dr. Irwin received word that the patient was doing nicely.

Then came the lapse of years until the reunion about three weeks ago when Dr. Irwin stepped ashore from the President Harding in New York to be greeted by a longed-for man as follows: "You don't know me, doctor, but you are the man who cut off my leg nine years ago."

A recent wedding of interest was that of Miss Pearl Scrivner, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Scrivner, of Danville, to Mr. J. E. Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Wilson, of Kirksville. They have just returned from their honeymoon trip to Chicago and are visiting relatives and friends near Richmond.

It was an informal wedding at the country home of the bride, near Danville. The date of the marriage was in honor of the 29th wedding anniversary of the bride's parents. Only members of the immediate families and a few friends were present. The impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. P. Strother, of Cincinnati, uncle of the bride, at 4 p. m., Thursday, July 6th.

The bride is a graduate of Eastern Kentucky State Normal School and was a member of the faculty for two years. She was a teacher in the Danville city schools the past year. The groom was graduated at the University of Kentucky in 1913, at the University of Chicago Law School in 1920 and is a member of the Delta Chi fraternity. While at the University of Kentucky he was for three years a member of the debating team and winner of the silver loving cup given by Judge Henry S. Barker, of Louisville, former president of the University. He was superintendent of the Hazard city schools for three years and is now a practicing attorney there, being a member of the law firm of Wilson and Wilson.

"Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford"

One of the screen treats of the current season is "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," which will be shown at local theatres Monday. This is said to be a delightful comedy directed by the man who made "Humoresque," and how Wallingford and his associate in buncombe, "Blackie" Daw, make a fortune for themselves and the people of the town of Battlesburg is an enthralling story well adapted to the screen. The details of the two sharpers' schemes present enough complications to make the story a series of laughs from start to finish. The characters are among the

WORMS CAUSE DEATH OF MANY SHEEP

Lexington, Ky., July 22—Stomach worms this summer are causing heavy losses in many Kentucky sheep flocks, according to inquiries as to the best methods of treatment which are being received at the College of Agriculture, from farmers in different sections of the state. One farmer has reported the loss of a dozen lambs while another who wished to know what to do for the trouble stated that he not only had lost lambs but also ewes.

Although rotation of pastures is a preventive measure, drenching with copper sulphate, commonly known as bluestone, must be resorted to after the animals become infested with the worms, according to L. J. Horlacher, in charge of sheep work at the college. One-fourth of a pound of the pulverized material is dissolved in a pint of boiling water and enough water added to make three gallons. This is sufficient to drench 100 animals, each mature sheep being given three and one-half ounces or seven tea-spoonsful. Lambs receive half this amount. It is necessary to keep the sheep off feed for 12 hours before drenching and care also should be taken not to strangle them while the drench is being given.

Rotation of pastures has proved its value as a preventive measure in trials conducted on the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station farm. Whenever possible lambs and ewes are changed to fresh pastures every two weeks from the first of June until lambs are marketed. It has been found that if the pastures are kept in good condition, the infestation will not be as serious as it is if the grass is kept cropped short.

Rape, oats, clover and vetch all make excellent crops for alternating with permanent bluegrass pastures. Lambs which are kept free from worms by preventive measures will be ready for market much earlier than those which are troubled with them.
